DID YOU KNOW...

In the history of humanity we may be the most overfed generation, but at the same time the most malnourished and with the most chronic diseases.

With our lifestyle it may not be easy to eat well, we have forgotten the true purpose of eating which is to nourish our bodies.

The Western diet is full of refined and processed foods that have a strong negative impact on our body.

Food highly loaded with sugar, flour and fat is the most frequent choice because it is fast and cheap. We only manage to satisfy our appetite, but we do not obtain the essential nutrients for our body to function correctly.

These habits that we have carried for a long time generate a progressive deterioration of our health.

One of the ways to quickly and easily improve our quality of life is to increase the intake of foods rich in nutrients, the best way to do this is including them in our daily diet with superfoods.

SUPERFOODS

SUPERFOODS are nutritionally the most complete foods on the planet and have been used for thousands of years to heal the mind and body.

In today's toxic world it is very important to include them in your diet to improve your performance, increase vitality and feel rejuvenated.

The concept of food as medicine is not new. The value of eating well, the importance of nutritional balance and the potential of certain foods for health and well-being is recognized by everyone.

"Let food be the medicine and medicine be the food"
Hippocrates

THE KING OF SUPERFOODS

GANODERMA LUCIDUM

Ganoderma Lucidum has been known for more than 4 thousand years for its positive impact on human health.

It was a very rare and difficult mushroom to collect, so only royalty and the ruling elite had access to it.

It's name comes from the Greek ganns - shine -, derma - skin - and from the Latin lucidum - shiny -; referring to the bright red appearance of the fresh mushroom.

It is a fundamental part of the Shen Nong, the ancestral book of Chinese herbal medicine, where it is recorded as Lingzhi (Potentialize the spirit). 200 years BC

He has been listed as the King of Antioxidants. Powerful names are attributed to him, such as

"Divine Mushroom"

"10,000-year mushroom."

"Mushroom of Immortality."

CANCER ADJUVANT EXPERIENCE

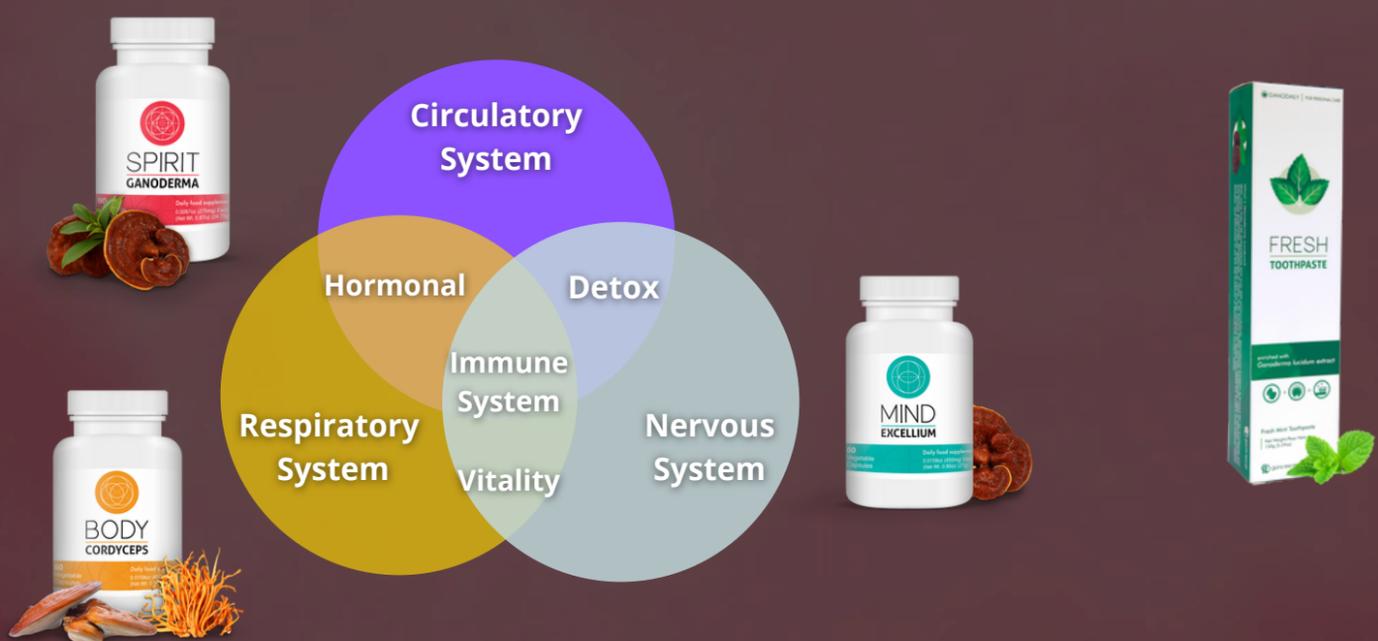

There are multiple factors that damage a cell's DNA. When this happens, the normal thing is that the body destroys it through a process known as apoptosis. - Promotes natural cell death
- Contains a large amount of polysaccharides and triterpenoids that provide anti-tumor properties
